PASSED OVER TO GREAT BEYOND

MRS. WILLIAMSON, DIES AT PESCADERO AFTER ILLNESS OF SEVERAL MONTHS

Mrs. Hattie J. Williamson, wife of J. C. Williamson of Pescadero, passed away on Tuesday last following a lingering illness of several months. In her youth she was known as Hattie Honsinger. She spent her whole life at Pescadero and was known as a winsome girl, beloved by her schoolmates for her kind manner and winning ways. Many years ago she married Mr. Williamson and the marriage proved an extremely happy one, both sharing in each others joys and sorrows. Mrs. Williamson was a woman of fine ideals, charitable to a marked degree, kind and considerate and a devoted mother and loving wife. None knew her but to love her. Her family circle will sadly miss her kindly advice and cheerful manner.

The funeral took place on Thursday. It was largely attended by friends from all portions of the county. Mrs. Williamson is survived by her husband and the following children: Frank G., Ella G. and Florence A. Williamson.

GIVEN GOVERNMENT CONTRACT

H. L. Williams, proprietor of the Capital Market, has the contract to furnish the government meat at Camp Fremont at Menlo Park. He delivers a thousand pounds daily at the big camp. After the fifteenth of the month other contracts will be let for the meat supply. However, Mr. Williams will continue to furnish certain portions of the camp with meat.

BROMFIELD NOW THE SOLE OWNER

A. P. BELLISLE RETIRES FROM NEWSPAPER BUSINESS IN SAN MATEO

J. D. Bromfield yesterday purchased the one-half interest of his partner, A. P. Bellisle, in The San Mateo County News, the San Mateo Leader and the printing and publishing business conducted under the name of The News Publishing Company. The business hereafter will be conducted under Bromfield's management.

Mr. Bellisle retires from the printing and publishing business in San Mateo with the honor of having been one of the founders, owners and editors of San Mateo county's first daily newspaper, which has become one of the well-established institutions of the peninsula.

Mr. Bellisle's name was one of the first drawn in the recent draft and most likely he will be called to the training camp at American Lake by the government.

Mr. Bromfield who assumes full charge of the News is one of the most enterprising and popular newspaper men of the peninsula. He received his training on the old San Francisco Call, being the county correspondent for that journal. He is a good writer and thoroughly grounded in all branches of the profession. His many friends in San Mateo county wish him every success in his new undertaking.

Joseph J. Bullock left yesterday accompanied by his wife for a week end vacation at Paraiso springs. They motored to the resort.

ACCIDENTAL SHOT CAUSES DEATH

J. J. ESCHENBACHER, PIONEER, FOUND DEAD AT HIS HOME—FUNERAL THURSDAY

John J. Eschenbacher, a pioneer of this county and a well-known rancher, was laid to rest in Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park, Thursday morning after a mass was celebrated for the repose of his soul in Mount Carmel church.

Mr. Eschenbacher was found dead in his cabin located on a portion of the H. C. Finkler ranch by Edward Foley Tuesday morning. Foley at once notified deputy coroner John Layng, who removed the body to the Redwood City Undertaking Parlors.

The deceased had an ugly would just above his heart caused by the discharge of a shot gun, which he always kept in his cabin. It is believed that while grouping in the dark the weapon was accidentally discharged and with fatal results. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of accidental death. Mr. Eschenbacher had been failing in health and through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Finkler, he had been shown every consideration by them.

Eschenbacher was born in Menlo Park. When quite young his parents moved to the mountains above Portola and took up farming on a piece of property known as the Jesse Rapley ranch. After a few years the family came to Redwood City, where they made their home on Bradford street. The son graduated from St. Mary's College then at San Francisco, and was considered an exceptionally bright scholar. The father and mother died many years ago. The only relative that the deceased has left in the State, as far as is known, is a cousin, Mrs. G. B. Okerlund of Pinole, Cal.

TRUSTEES CLOSE ACME SALOON

CONSTRUCTION CONTRACT LET TO G. C. DEGOLYER OF OAKLAND, CAL.

The city trustees at its meeting held last Monday evening only transacted routine business.

Officer Joe Roza made a complaint against the Acme saloon on Main street. He charged the proprietor of the resort with selling liquor to a man already intoxicated. Mr. Johansen the proprietor was present at the meeting and made the plea that the liquor had been sold by a barkeeper who had already been discharged for his shortcomings.

Officer Joe Roza, upon whose information the complaint had been filed, stated that at the time the man to whom the liquor had been sold entered the saloon he was in a plainly drunken condition.

The trustees are showing a disposition to be harsh with such violators of the law. After some argument it was decided to continue the matter for two weeks. In the meantime the saloon is to be closed.

J. D. Smith asked that he be given a raise to $4.50 a day for each team for sprinkling the streets. The request was referred to the superintendent of streets, Dearborn. The ordinance defining drunkenness was given its final reading.

A contract for the construction of a sewer in portions of Lincoln avenue and Hudson street was let to George C. DeGolyer of Oakland, the lowest of three bidders, all of whom were outside contractors. The bids were as follows: George C. DeGolyer, $1,247.55; Fred Meyers of Richmond, $1,499.30; S. F. Johnson, of San Francisco, $1,613.70.

City workingmen's claims will be paid twice a month in the future.

EXEMPTION BOARD TAKE UP DUTIES

COUNTY BAR ASSOCIATION TO ASSIST THE BOARD ON LEGAL QUESTIONS

During the week the exemption board consisting of Judge E. E. Cunningham as chairman, George A. Merrill, secretary, and H. P. Bowie, has held night sessions in the City Hall at San Mateo, preparing the blanks and notifications notices to be sent out to those who are to appear before the board for the physical examinations. A corps of competent clerks at the courthouse has been sending these notices out since last Monday. The quota required of the county by the recent draft is 384 but the exemption board has notified more than double that number, to-wit, 807 to appear before the board next Monday at the City Hall at San Mateo to take the examination. The applicants will appear according to their serial number, that is, number one will be examined first and so on. At 8 o'clock the board will be in session with a corps of doctors and begin their work. It is expeted that 90 applicants will be examined by noon, 90 more in the afternoon and 90 in the evening, consuming three days and three evenings to complete the work. Those in the 700 and 800 column do not need to appear until Wednesday. Those passing a successful examination and desiring to claim exemption may file their claim at this time, the board will provide the necessary blank forms and the applicant will be given ten days to make his proofs. The board will then pass on them within three days and make their decision. If allowed the exemption, the applicant is permitted to go his way, if the exemption is not granted his name is sent to the adjutant general of the state at Sacramento and he is to await the call of that officer, unless he wishes to take an appeal from the decision of the local board to the higher commission which is appointed by Washington to pass upon such appeals.

The bar association of the county held a meeting Thursday morning. It was agreed that all the attorneys were to assist the exemption board on all legal matters, each lawyer spending four hours with the board. There will be a disciple of Blackstone on hand to give advice on legal questions as they arise during the entire three days and evenings. The exemption board expects the work to go on smoothly, as they look for no friction between the board and those appearing for examinations. It is expected that there will be a number of young men claim exemption. These applications will be carefully passed upon by the board with the advices of the legal fraternity.

CASE IS DISMISSED

The case of Edward S. Munford, et al against the Hibernia Savings and Loan Soiety, has been dismissed in the superior ourt. The notice of dismissal was filed in the county clerk's office yesterday.

DUCK HUNTING REMINISCENCES

STORY NO. 14 BY CLAUDE FOX

Dear old "Bill", my first pal, has long since been laid away, but vividly were recollections of him brought to memory last Monday evening as I stood in the back garden at home sprinkling the flowers. The sun was nearly down behind the western hills and the long dark shadows were blending together across the landscape preparatory to the coming twilight. As I intently watched the flight of a biplane coming toward me from the San Carlos aviation field there was a sound reached my ears from overhead somewhat similar to that made by the light sweep of a broom across a heavy carpet, a fluttering swish I might call it. Instinctively I realized what it was. Often in the years gone by had I been startled by that same sound, and before looking skyward I would gladly have wagered twenty to one that I could tell the cause of that sound. When I did look the sight that met my eyes sent a thrill through me such as 's only felt by one who loves duck hunting and the sweet music wafted toward you by the rustle of the web-foot's wings. Stretched out in a semi-circle and heading westwards directly toward the red sky left by the setting sun was a flock of from two hnudred and fifty to three hundred sprig flying with the speed of an express train. I watched them until they faded from sight and when they did so my thoughts ran back to "Bill" and a certain evening in August, 1877, as I stepped off the train in this city, when my pal exclaimed to me, as I shall today do, to the present generation who are affected with "duckitis", "What do you think, the ducks are here, the ducks are here; no fooling I saw a big flock last night."

"Bill" was honest with me, and I shall be likewise with the boys of today. The birds of 1917-18 have made their appearance, and if signs are worth anything before another month has passed the bay and marshes will be filled with the long necked beauties of the species which caught my eye in the coming twilight last Monday night.

But, young nimrods, do not build your hopes too high. Although thousands of birds will undoubtedly be seen here during August and September, long before the opening of the season on October 15th is ushered in, a great many of them will have departed southward. These are the home bred birds, the migratory ones from the far north not reaching us until November. A very heavy rain just before the opening of the season will drive these home bred birds from the bay, and scatter them throughout the valley of the San Joaquin, and as far south as Los Angeles.

But I am getting ahead of my story. That flock of sprig evidently got on my nerves. Here I am writing about an event which happened but a week ago, and in story No. 13 my readers were left way back in the winter of 1878-79.

As I have stated before "Bill" and I had to confine our duck hunting to the day time. Father had given me strict orders to always be home at supper time, and as much as I should have liked to have stayed on the marsh and hunted in the moonlight, I did not wish to jeopardize the ownership of that breech loader by disobeying his orders. In a few years, however, when I had became quite familiar with the marshland, Dad relented somewhat, and I was permitted to hunt with the older boys down through the grain fields and at the fresh water ponds well into the middle of the night, and then with that permission given, my watch would very often run down, or I would stop it purposely, you you can guess which, and the first streaks of early dawn would find me still sitting at some favorite pond waiting for just one more shot, before picking up my dead decoys and reluctantly starting toward home.

You boys of today, being unfamiliar with the conditions at the time of which I am writing, will, I know accept somewhat creduously the statement which I make that the first experience "Bill" and myself ever had in shooting ducks at night time, was acquired within the town limits and right under the nose of the constable and town marshal, but such is the fact. My friends Micky Collins and Bob Hogan, with their keen eyes and ears had not settled in our midst, and the marshal and constable of those days were both too tired by nightfall by reason of their arduous duties of the day, to chase two fleet-footed boys, who could make their get-away like a pair of startled rabbits, before the reverbating sounds of both barrels of a shot gun had died away up and down the creek. The ducks were so plentiful that down along the creek where the plant of S. H. Frank & Co., is now located, it was no trick at all to sneak up behind a wood pile and knock over a couple of teal or spoonbill at any time of the day and in the evening one could stand at the bridge on Broadway, where the old flood gates still remain as a $1400 monument to the business sagacity of our then town trustees, and observe bunch after bunch of teal fly up the creek, raise as they crossed the bridge, and then settle down into the various arms of the slough right in the center of town. That sight was too much for "Bill" and myself. Something had to be done to prevent those ducks from flying into the kitchen doors of the people living along the creek and eating the food off the table, so "Bill" and I unanimously elected ourselves to perform the work of extermination. Vaguely we had heard of some law or ordinance prohibiting the discharging of fire arms within the city limits, but that was a secondary consideration with us. It was ducks we wanted and we were going to have them.

I usually kept my shot gun and gum boots up in a closet in my bed room, but it was an easy matter to lock them up down in the granary, where our club room was located. The ducks that flew in up the creek in the evening were after fresh water, an abundance of which was always flowing down the channel during the winter months. Low tide was of course the best time to get them, as the little green wings like to puddle along in the slushy mud and water. We were not long in discovering this, for at high tide, when the salt water filled the slough, the birds would not lead in at all. Right back of the new City Hall and to the rear of the Thorpe and Hanson homes was a favorite place for the teal to light and puddle around. Along the edge of the old school grounds was a picket fence and "Bill" and I loosened two of the pickets at the bottom, which when spread apart, made a very convenient opening for our exit after making a shot. Just before dusk we would slip down to the club room, get the boots and gun and skip out over the fence and across the rear of what is now the Cullen Co's property, but which in the early days was owned by an old Irish lady named Maggie Mack. Climbing up on to the

ANDERSON DEFEATS DOYLE; S. M. CARD DISAPPOINTING

The Redwood City boys brought home the bacon at the boxing show staged by the Floral City Athletic Club at San Mateo last Tuesday night. Al. Anderson, the local champion, hooked up with Al. Doyle, the pride of Colma, in a return engagement. The last go between these boys was declared a draw by the judges, although Anderson won by a wide margin, and if there was any doubt in the minds of the fans as to which was the better boy, such doubt was completely dispelled Tuesday night. Anderson gave Doyle a boxing lesson such as is seldom seen in an amateur ring. Boxing in his best form, the Redwood City lad beat the Colma wonder to every punch, and on two or three occasions during the four rounds, Doyle seemed badly hurt, and on the verge of being knocked out. It must be said for Doyle, however, that he fought one of his gamest fights. Although not considered the gamest kind of a fighter when the going is against him, Doyle, stood up under Anderson's vicious right uppercuts, and tried his hardest to land a haymaker that might turn the tide of battle in his favor. Anderson's speed, however, had the boy from the north end completely baffled, and he never had a chance of landing a damaging blow.

The three judges promptly declared Anderson the winner, whereupon Doyle stepped to the center of the ring and challenged Anderson to another fight. There seems to be considerable feeling between these two boys and their followers, and it is hard for the Colma contingent to acknowledge that Redwood City has the better fighter. Doyle, who has been in the game for some time, has quite a reputation as a knockerout, and his admirers around Colma and South San Francisco have been claiming for him the welterweight championship of San Mateo county. Tuesday night's encounter, however, showed that Doyle is completely outclassed when pitted against the Redwood City speed marvel.

Anderson is evidently just beginning to round back into his good form. Since his recent illness he has had a hard time getting into shape. Even now his left arm, which was injured a while back, gives him some trouble when in the ring. When fighting in his best form, he is a pretty fighter and a punishing hitter, and from now on there will be few boys of his weight that can cause him any worry.

The Anderson-Doyle bout was the one bright spot in the evening's entertainment, and had this contest not warmed the fans up to such a pitch of excitement, there would have been but little to rave over. Altogether the card was by far the worst matchmaker Charlie Brown has yet offered the public.

The other boy to carry his medal back to Redwood City was Jack Wilson, who stopped Red Dunn in the third round. Wilson is one of the boys that was recently brought out from the East by Joe Hahir, Superintendent of the Alaska Codfish Company. This is Wilson's first fight in California, and as he has been here but a couple of weeks, he has had no time to work himself into condition. He showed himself a willing mixer, however, and had no trouble in stopping his larger opponent. All the employees of the Codfish Company, from the superintendent down, were at the ringside to cheer him on to victory. Local fans would like to see more of Wilson and he will very likely have a place on the next card put on by the San Mateo club.

Soldier Ryan from Camp Fremont fought Eddie Huse in the main event, the contest being called a draw.

The balance of the card was not worthy of mention.

The judges for the evening were Chas. Mason, Dr. Sisson and J. G. Whitaker.

16 TO 1 MATCHES

How many of you have cussed out the sivteen-to-one match—strike sixteen to get one light—which has recently made its appearance in the American market? With about 59 of its companions it comes in a box bearing a yellow label with a three-masted schooner imprinted thereon, and along its side reads: "Made in Sweden". It is of the safety match variety, and it certainly does not belie its name for it is about as safe as a toothpick. A man pays one cent for a box and jeopardizes his salvation every time he tries to light his cigar. Its flame is as fleeting as a Presidential decision and the Presidential signature to the present tariff law which reduced the duty on matches 50 per cent is responsible for its presence in our market. It is a Democratic match.

THE LACRYMOSE PRATT

Dr. E. E. Pratt former chief of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce who was fired for officiousness continues to give out interviews seeking public sympathy for the treatment accorded him. His former chief, Secretary Redfield is charged with incapacity and delay. Without doubt the charge is true, and Redfield is quite as indifferent as was Pratt, and should have been canned long ago. But Pratt will get little sympathy by whining. He is reported to have said that he "is considering several flattering offers." It is suggested that he accept one of them and shut up.

PREACH NOT TO THE RIGHTEOUS

At a midsummer outing of Massachusetts Republicans the speakers with practically one accord advised the abandonment of partisan politics in order to present a united front to the enemy in time of war. The advice was good—but it was taken to the wrong party. It is not the Republicans who are playing politics with war and war conditions. They have surrendered partisanship in Congress and have given constant and cordial co-operation to the President in everything that he has suggested as helpful to his war programme. Indeed without Republican votes and without Republican advocacy the President would have been powerless to advance any essential feature of his war schedule of legislation. But his party spurred doubtless by his example in practice if not in precept has not displayed any inclination to abandon partisanship. Their majority in both houses of Congress has been employed for partisan purposes. They have created offices by the thousand and have refused to permit them to be filled from civil service eligibles. These places have been filled by the personal selection of functionaries whom the President has designated and who are with few exceptions Democrats most ardent. When it becomes incumbent upon anyone to preach the doctrine of non-partisanship, the preacher should seek a congregation of Democrats, not of Republicans. He should seek to call not the righteous but sinners to repentance.

Pearl White, Pathe's Star.
"THE FATAL RING"

The management of the New Redwood Theatre (formerly Bell) has been fortunate enough to secure this wonderful Pathe serial which will be shown every Tuesday evening, commencing August 14th. This is the much talked of picture which just started its big run in San Francisco last week. The first chapter shows Pearl White as Perl Standish, the richest girl in America, who is trying to recover a certain violet diamond sought by a strange sect, the members of which will go to any extreme to obtain their end. This picture is the talk of every large city in the United States and the theatre-going public of Redwood are indeed fortunate in being able to see it in Redwood before it is one week old. Don't miss one installment of this wonderful masterpiece of motion photography.

THE WEEK'S EVENTS IN LOCAL CIRCLES

Redwood City as Seen Through Incidents Gathered Here and There

D. Flynn, the local agent for the Ford automobile, this week sold a runabout to L. F. Ivanhoe of this city. Mr. Flynn visited the Ford factory in San Francisco on Thursday and saw the new ton truck which Mr. Ford is about to place on the market. It will cost $700 and promises to have a big sale.

Frances King, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. King of Reno, Nev., has entered the junior class of the high school. He spent two years in the high school of Reno where he made a record as a student. Young King is a bright lad, industrious and a hard worker. He is preparing himself for the legal profession in which his father has gained considerable eminence.

Miss Ellen Joachim, a professional nurse of San Francisco, has been selected by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, to attend any of its industrial policy hoerlsd who may be ill or who may meet with accident. These services will be rendered free of charge. Miss Joachim is located at 233 Arguello street. She has an automobile and will respond promptly to any call in this locality . This service is certainly appraciated by the policy holders.

W. H. Lampkin, Henry Berger, Peter Larrecou, Benjamin Stafford, James Logan, departed in two automobiles last Sunday on a hunting trip to the wilds of Mendocino county. Near Ponit Arena one of the automobiles broke down and the party was compelled to pitch its tent there. On the first day they killed two deer. The hunters have written to friends here to the effect that they are having the time of their lives. They report deer very plentiful. The party is expected home about the middle of next week.

Look out for the story No. 15 written by Claude Fox for the paper under the head of "Duck Hunting Reminiscences." It will appear shortly, either in next week's issue or the one following. As all the old timers know, when Fox was a boy, wild ducks and geese were here in countless thousands, while today they are very scarce and hard to get. The Fish and Game Commission of the State claims they were killed off and driven away by the market hunters, but Fox contends otherwise, and he will show by evidence that cannot be disputed, and argument based upon facts, not theories, that he is correct. He will also go further and show the people of this county and state how, at the last general election, through the attempted passage of an obnoxious amendment, they were nearly deprived of the luxury of eating wild ducks.

Without mentioning any names, he will rap pretty hard some of the residents of this city and county for voting for and openly advocating the passage of that amendment. It will be a story well worth reading and keeping for future reference, if you love duck shooting or are in any way interested in wild water fowl.

GRANTED INTERLOCUTORY DEGREE OF DIVORCE

Mrs. Bello is the daughter of a wealthy land owner of Marin county. E. B. Mering and M. J. Gillespie of San Francisco appeared for plaintiffs. The Bellos resided in San Bruno.

CAPT. LANDSCHEIT ADDRESSES FORUM

Y. M. C. A. Work Explained by Mr. Service, Its Representative

An interesting program was given at the Baptist Church Forum Sunday evening. The first speaker was Captain Landscheit of the Home Guards. By request he spoke of his army experience in England; entering the army at seventeen years of age and remaining in it until he came to San Mateo county more than twenty years ago. His references to some of his experiences while in the service were very amusing and kept the audience in good humor. Speaking for the Home Guards he said, in part: It is a new departure of the government intended to provide protection for the towns of the country during the war; composed of men from 18 to 60 years of age. Its number runs from 40 to 75. Our company has the full number—75, with a good size "waiting list". The present officers are: Captain C. G. Landscheit; first lieutenant, W. S. Baker Jr.; second lieutenant, W. J. Graef. All these officers have had military experience. Drills will take place on Tuesday nights for the present.

The Y. M. C. A. was represented by Mr. Service who has had years of experience in Y. M. C. A. work with the navy. He is now in charge of the large work of constructing the equipage for the Y. M. C. A. at Camp Fremont. Mr. Service spoke of the beginning of the army Y. M. C. A. work. When the Spanish-American war broke out President McKinley wrote to the Y. M. C. A. asking whether something could not be done for our boys at the front in the way of religious services and entertainment. As a result, forces were sent out among the soldiers; even going into regions of great danger. When General Pershing's command was sent against the most savage tribe in the Philippines the Y. M. C. A. tent and workers followed him. When he was sent on the expedition into Mexico recently it was thought by the government that there was no authority of a civic body to enter such territory. But after General Pershing sent word to the Department at Washington asking for the army Y. M. C. A., Congress authorized it, and heavy trucks carried the equipment to the soldiers. Mr. Service then outlined the work they are trying to do at Camp Fremont. Five buildings or units will be provided with a corp of workers for each. An entertainment will be given six nights in the week.

A request from the Federal Construction Company asking for an extension of ten days in which to complete their contract for the construction of the highway in front of Wellesley Park, in Redwood City, was granted on motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey.

The following bids were opened for the construction of a reinforced concrete culvert over Cascade creek, near Steele, in the Fifth township.

Tieslau Bros., $2,249.55.

M. B. Wiggins, $1,528,10.

The contract was awarded to M. B. Wiggins on motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey, he being the lowest bidder.

WOMEN WORK FOR FOOD CONSERVATION

Important Meeting of County Women's Committee Held at San Mateo

An important meeting of San Mateo County Women's Committee of National and State Councils of Defense was held at the Peninsula Hotel, San Mateo.

Millions of women volunteers have swept into the great Councils of Defense recently organized by the President of the United States, each individual to do her part in helping to solve the problems of war. The message has gone throughout the length and breadth of the land, even to faraway Alaska and our island possessions. In Porto Rico, Guam, Hawaii, against many difficulties not known here, the women have organized and are at work. Many national organizations of women have joined forces with the Government, and the membership of the National Council now reaches into the millions. From nation to state, from state to county, from county to town, from town to house, every woman is reached, and to the honor of the womanhood of America be it said that very few refuse to take part when asked to affiliate and do her share. The terrible realization that their country is in war has taken hold of the women and each is arming herself for the firing line in her home.

Much enthusiasm was shown at the meeting of the local committee on Tuesday afternoon at the Peninsula Hotel in San Mateo. Representatives from the principal towns of the county from which the different department chairmen have been appointed were present and evinced great interest in the questions discussed. Food conservation seems still to be of paramount importance, Mr. Hoover's instructions being to continue the campaign indefinitely. The food pledges are being signed in great numbers and forwarded to headquarters in Los Angeles, whence they will be sent to Washington. Mrs. H. C. Godfrey, Food Conservation chairman for San Mateo county, has sent out pledges all over the county and is endeavoring to reach the housewife through the newspapers in the way of government recipes and general advice. Our housewives pride themselves upon their efficiency and economy and are always ready to receive new hints.

James G. Mason will leave in a short time for Seabright on a lengthy leave of absence from his duties as Wells, Fargo agent. His place will be temporarily taken by Mr. La Bree.

The Native Daughters are to give a dance in Triumph hall tonight. A big crowd is looked for as the affair has been thoroughly advertised. Good music and an enjoyable time guaranteed.

The wedding of a prominent young man employed at St. Patrick's Seminary and a young lady lately from New York and temporarily residing at Menlo Park is on the tapis for the ides of October.

Mrs. William Cluff leaves tomorrow, accompanied by her daughter, for Canada to spend six months as a guest of her daughter, who was formerly Mrs. Jack Wilson. She spent the summer here with her mother.

The Headley property on Santa Cruz avenue, occupied for years by John Moriarty, has been sold to a San Francisco party for $2300. The owner is soon to erect a substantial building for business purposes on the land.

Joseph Walsh, the young son of Constable Walsh, entered the commercial department of the high school last Monday for a four year course. He recently graduated from the local grammar school with high honors.

A prominent San Francisco banker was here on Thursday looking for a site for a big bank building. He secured an option on two pieces of property. He will make an effort to open a bank here by the first of September.

Mrs. A. J. Marcus departed Thursday afternoon for New York for a stay of three months. She will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Taussig, who spent last winter at the Marcus home here. Mrs. Marcus' many friends wish her a pleasant trip and a safe return home.

Captain Walter Scott a national guardsman who has seen service on the border was turned down for a commission in the regular army during the week. He had been training at the Presido and with a number of others was disqualified. Mr. Scott is a son-in-law of Mr. Amweig who resides at University Heights.

E. Mooney and John Doyle have formed a copartnership to conduct a general contracting and building business. Both are expert carpenters and are experienced in the business Mr. Mooney some years ago was a prominent contractor in San Francisco, having erected a number of large buildings there after the fire. The new firm already have more contracts than they are able to attend to.

Joseph Larkin will begin laying the foundation for his new building on El Camino Real opposite the army camp. Harry B. Morey has the contract for the cement work which will cost $2500. The building when complete will cost upwards of $20,000.

Ravenswood during the week looking for a suitable tract to establish an aero base. It is believed the government will select either the old Nash field or the Cooley tract on the bay shore.

Major Phillip G. Wales who maintains a beautiful home on Santa Cruz avenue, will entertain a number of distinguished guests at his residence tomorrow. Among those who are to be received are General and Mrs. Leggett, Colonel and Mrs. R. P. Davis and Mr. Arthur Carson, a capitalist of New York, and several other distinguished army officers. The major himself is a retired army officer and is held in high esteem among army men throughout the country. The major hails from New York. It is said that through his influence the army camp was located here. He considers the site the best in the country and hopes that it will be made permanent.

The old P. J. Maloney livery stable is being transformed into a billiard and pool room. Mooney and Doyle are tearing down the front portion of the structure, putting down new flooring and remodelling the interior. In the center will be ten billiard and pool tables, on one side temperance drinks, cigars and tobacco will be sold while on the other side will be occupied by a four chair barber shop to be conducted by Mr. Linwood of San Francisco, who is to conduct a first-class tonsorial parlor. The pool rooms and cigar stand are to be conducted by James P. Maloney and John W. Morey.

Chew Chick, who has conducted a fruit store here for the past two years, has shown wonderful business acumen in the new awakening of Menlo Park. The "Melican" man is away behind the Celestial in foresight. When Chick discovered that the army camp was to be located in Menlo Park he at once sought Mr. Collie, who owned a small unused cottage on El Camino Real a few feet below Triumph Hall, and leased it for a period of ten years at the small rental of $12.50 a month. He constructed a respectable front to the building and yesterday leased one portion of the structure for $50 a month and another part for the same amount, reserving the center portion of the struture for his fruit store. Chick certainly is enterprising and is fully alive to what the big camp means to this community.

Miss Alice Moriarty, after months of patient suffering, passed out of life to the great beyond at an early hour yesterday morning, surrounded by her family. Miss Moriarty was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Moriarty, and was born in Menlo Park a little over seventeen years ago. She was a bright, winsome girl, cheerful and ever willing to assist those in distress. She frequently appeared in performances given by the Menlo Park Dramatic society, always displaying talent in the parts she took in these plays. Had she lived she might have had a very successful stage career. The funeral will take place on Monday morning from the Church of the Nativity. The deceased is survived by her father and mother, Edward, Moriarty, a brother, and two sisters, Mrs. George Shine and Miss Annie Moriarty.

Camp Fremont Notes

Next Monday 6000 head of horses and mules will arrive here from Wyoming for the artillery. We expect to hear much braying then.

The quartermaster is erecting buildings on the Mary's Help Hospital forty-acre tract on El Camino Real. Here will be located the officers and the tract is to be the parade grounds.

The Fourth and Ninth Companies will leave today for Fort Scott and their places will be taken by a regiment of national guards from Wyoming. The former companies are made up of regulars.

Early next week the first installment of the guardsmen from the north will begin to arrive. It is expected by the latter part of next week over 10,000 soldiers will be in camp.

About 75 soldier boys enjoyed a most delightful time at the Hall of the Nativity on Wednesday evening when a dance was given in their honor by the Young Ladies' Sodalities. The boys in khaki furnished the music and the young ladies the refreshments. The gentlemanly demeanor of the young men greatly impressed all. We in the camp are enthusiastic about our new quarters and the hearty welcome extended to us by the people of Menlo Park. No place in the world are the people so hospitable or so considerate. Wherever we go we will always have a soft spot in our hearts for the citizens of this community.

A big crowd listened to the municipal band of San Francisco last Sunday afternoon. Hundreds of people came from San Francisco and all points of the peninsula to hear the catchy music. Over 2000 persons were present. Concerts will be given every Sunday when all the soldiers arrive. They have their own bands.

Wilson the candy man has the contract to furnish the camp with chocolate and confections. Uncle Sam is to serve his soldiers candy.

Hoitt School has been transformed into a hospital. The hospital corps from the Presido arrived on Tuesday and have taken charge of the building. Up until last night there was only one patient in the institution.

The last few morning being very cloudy and cool, myriads of flies gathered around the camp kitchen bothering the cook of the Ninth Artillery. One morning the boys in near-by tents were suddenly awakened by dense smoke issuing from the kitchen. Upon investigation it was discovered that the cause of the smoke was from a new invention of the cook who employed a torch dipped in oil and who went around his kitchen burning bunches of flies that had become drowsy during the cold morning. Before they knew it they were incinerated by the resourceful cook. Now there is not a fly to be seen around the kitchen. "Bully for the cook" say the soldier boys.

The Retirement of Mr. Johnson

Editorial Santa Cruz Evening News August 1, 1917.

Mayor Taylor, and probably every member of the city council, would have been glad, no doubt, to have J. Leslie Johnson remain in the position he has held under all administrations since the commission charter was adopted. Mr. Johnson's retirement was not influenced by the election of Mr. Taylor—it had been resolved upon long before Fred R. Howe's term closed as mayor, and was prompted purely by business reasons. It is a pleasure to acknowledge the splendid service performed by Mr. Johnson in one of the most difficult and responsible positions in the city government. In a place where mistakes seemed inescapable and where mistakes would have meant so much, we cannot recall one single error of procedure—one error in judgment—in all Mr. Johnson's years of relations with the council and in all the matters with which he was called upon to deal. Yet there were many big and involved projects—like the building of the wharf, the settlement of the bondholders' claims against the city in the matter of the municipal water system, the deal by which the Hihn system was secured—where a legal misstep would have entailed serious consequences. The tapayers in the mass probably do not know the extent of the time and labor Mr. Johnson gave the city for comparatively small remuneration, but all those having business with the city know, and they sincerely regret his departure from the city attorneyship.

CASE DECIDED IN FAVOR OF THE DEFENDANT

Judge Buck has rendered a decision in the case of William Maguire against George R. Williams as executor of the estate of Truman E. Jewell deceased. Judgment was given defendant on demurrer. The decision is as follows:

"There is no doubt that on January 7, 1903 Jewell owed Maguire $959. The debt existed and its payment did not depend upon any contingency. Its payment was not postponed. If not paid within a certain time the Statute of Limitations would run. True Jewell gave Maguire the right to receive any money realized from the Liberty Hill and Little York Mining property in which Jewell then owned an interest to be applied to the payment of this $959. No time was fixed in this right. No condition imposed. No contingency was provided for. This right to receive money from the mine given by Jewell to Maguire did not stop the running of the Statute of Limitations. About fourteen years has elapsed since the debt was acknowledged and upon the face of the complaint the action is barred. The case must be such however, that the right of action is suspended, until the happening of the contingency else the running of the statute will not be postponed."

Judgment for defendant on demurrer.

16 TO 1 MATCHES

How many of you have cussed out the sivteen-to-one match—strike sixteen to get one light—which has recently made its appearance in the American market? With about 59 of its companions it comes in a box bearing a yellow label with a three-masted schooner imprinted thereon, and along its side reads: "Made in Sweden". It is of the safety match variety, and it certainly does not belie its name for it is about as safe as a toothpick. A man pays one cent for a box and jeopardizes his salvation every time he tries to light his cigar. Its flame is as fleeting as a Presidential decision and the Presidential signature to the present tariff law which reduced the duty on matches 50 per cent is responsible for its presence in our market. It is a Democratic match.

THE LACRYMOSE PRATT

Dr. E. E. Pratt former chief of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce who was fired for officiousness continues to give out interviews seeking public sympathy for the treatment accorded him. His former chief, Secretary Redfield is charged with incapacity and delay. Without doubt the charge is true, and Redfield is quite as indifferent as was Pratt, and should have been canned long ago. But Pratt will get little sympathy by whining. He is reported to have said that he "is considering several flattering offers." It is suggested that he accept one of them and shut up.

PREACH NOT TO THE RIGHTEOUS

At a midsummer outing of Massachusetts Republicans the speakers with practically one accord advised the abandonment of partisan politics in order to present a united front to the enemy in time of war. The advice was good—but it was taken to the wrong party. It is not the Republicans who are playing politics with war and war conditions. They have surrendered partisanship in Congress and have given constant and cordial co-operation to the President in everything that he has suggested as helpful to his war programme. Indeed without Republican votes and without Republican advocacy the President would have been powerless to advance any essential feature of his war schedule of legislation. But his party spurred doubtless by his example in practice if not in precept has not displayed any inclination to abandon partisanship. Their majority in both houses of Congress has been employed for partisan purposes. They have created offices by the thousand and have refused to permit them to be filled from civil service eligibles. These places have been filled by the personal selection of functionaries whom the President has designated and who are with few exceptions Democrats most ardent. When it becomes incumbent upon anyone to preach the doctrine of non-partisanship, the preacher should seek a congregation of Democrats, not of Republicans. He should seek to call not the righteous but sinners to repentance.

Pearl White, Pathe's Star,
"THE FATAL RING"

The management of the New Redwood Theatre (formerly Bell) has been fortunate enough to secure this wonderful Pathe serial which will be shown every Tuesday evening, commencing August 14th. This is the much talked of picture which just started its big run in San Francisco last week. The first chapter shows Pearl White as Perl Standish, the richest girl in America, who is trying to recover a certain violet diamond sought by a strange sect, the members of which will go to any extreme to obtain their end. This picture is the talk of every large city in the United States and the theatre-going public of Redwood are indeed fortunate in being able to see it in Redwood before it is one week old. Don't miss one installment of this wonderful masterpiece of motion photography.

THE WEEK'S EVENTS IN LOCAL CIRCLES

Redwood City as Seen Through Incidents Gathered Here and There

D. Flynn, the local agent for the Ford automobile, this week sold a runabout to L. F. Ivanhoe of this city. Mr. Flynn visited the Ford factory in San Francisco on Thursday and saw the new ton truck which Mr. Ford is about to place on the market. It will cost $700 and promises to have a big sale.

Frances King, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. King of Reno, Nev., has entered the junior class of the high school. He spent two years in the high school of Reno where he made a record as a student. Young King is a bright lad, industrious and a hard worker. He is preparing himself for the legal profession in which his father has gained considerable eminence.

Miss Ellen Joachim, a professional nurse of San Francisco, has been selected by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, to attend any of its industrial policy hoerlsd who may be ill or who may meet with accident. These services will be rendered free of charge. Miss Joachim is located at 233 Arguello street. She has an automobile and will respond promptly to any call in this locality . This service is certainly appraciated by the policy holders.

W. H. Lampkin, Henry Berger, Peter Larrecou, Benjamin Stafford, James Logan, departed in two automobiles last Sunday on a hunting trip to the wilds of Mendocino county. Near Ponit Arena one of the automobiles broke down and the party was compelled to pitch its tent there. On the first day they killed two deer. The hunters have written to friends here to the effect that they are having the time of their lives. They report deer very plentiful. The party is expected home about the middle of next week.

Look out for the story No. 15 written by Claude Fox for the paper under the head of "Duck Hunting Reminiscences." It will appear shortly, either in next week's issue or the one following. As all the old timers know, when Fox was a boy, wild ducks and geese were here in countless thousands, while today they are very scarce and hard to get. The Fish and Game Commission of the State claims they were killed off and driven away by the market hunters, but Fox contends otherwise, and he will show by evidence that cannot be disputed, and argument based upon facts, not theories, that he is correct. He will also go further and show the people of this county and state how, at the last general election, through the attempted passage of an obnoxious amendment, they were nearly deprived of the luxury of eating wild ducks.

Without mentioning any names, he will rap pretty hard some of the residents of this city and county for voting for and openly advocating the passage of that amendment. It will be a story well worth reading and keeping for future reference, if you love duck shooting or are in any way interested in wild water fowl.

CAPT. LANDSCHEIT ADDRESSES FORUM

Y. M. C. A. Work Explained by Mr. Service, Its Representative

An interesting program was given at the Baptist Church Forum Sunday evening. The first speaker was Captain Landscheit of the Home Guards. By request he spoke of his army experience in England; entering the army at seventeen years of age and remaining in it until he came to San Mateo county more than twenty years ago. His references to some of his experiences while in the service were very amusing and kept the audience in good humor. Speaking for the Home Guards he said, in part: It is a new departure of the government intended to provide protection for the towns of the country during the war; composed of men from 18 to 60 years of age. Its number runs from 40 to 75. Our company has the full number—75, with a good size "waiting list". The present officers are: Captain C. G. Landscheit; first lieutenant, W. S. Baker Jr.; second lieutenant, W. J. Graef. All these officers have had military experience. Drills will take place on Tuesday nights for the present.

The Y. M. C. A. was represented by Mr. Service who has had years of experience in Y. M. C. A. work with the navy. He is now in charge of the large work of constructing the equipage for the Y. M. C. A. at Camp Fremont. Mr. Service spoke of the beginning of the army Y. M. C. A. work. When the Spanish-American war broke out President McKinley wrote to the Y. M. C. A. asking whether something could not be done for our boys at the front in the way of religious services and entertainment. As a result, forces were sent out among the soldiers; even going into regions of great danger. When General Pershing's command was sent against the most savage tribe in the Philippines the Y. M. C. A. tent and workers followed him. When he was sent on the expedition into Mexico recently it was thought by the government that there was no authority of a civic body to enter such territory. But after General Pershing sent word to the Department at Washington asking for the army Y. M. C. A., Congress authorized it, and heavy trucks carried the equipment to the soldiers. Mr. Service then outlined the work they are trying to do at Camp Fremont. Five buildings or units will be provided with a corp of workers for each. An entertainment will be given six nights in the week.

The following bids were opened for the construction of a reinforced concrete culvert over Cascade creek, near Steele, in the Fifth township.

Tieslau Bros., $2,249.55.

M. B. Wiggins, $1,528,10.

The contract was awarded to M. B. Wiggins on motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey, he being the lowest bidder.

Only one bid, that of Tieslau Bros., in the sum of $3.147.10, was received for the grading of a portion of the "Skyline" boulevard to continue that portion just completed under contract toward King's mountain.

Supervisor Brown addressed the board and requested that the county surveyor be instructed to set the necessary stakes and excavate a small creek running underneath the railroad track near San Carlos, for taking care of the storm waters in the winter time.

The request of Dr. F. H. Smith, the new health officer, for a telephone in the office of the deputy health officer at Colma, was granted, on motion of MacBain, seconded by Francis.

On motion of MacBain ,seconded by Hickey, the sum of $1,125.70 was ordered transferred from the general fund to the San Gregorio-Pescadero Road Fund to meet a payment for the above amount due on the contract of Lou G. Hare.

WOMEN WORK FOR FOOD CONSERVATION

Important Meeting of County Women's Committee Held at San Mateo

An important meeting of San Mateo County Women's Committee of National and State Councils of Defense was held at the Peninsula Hotel, San Mateo.

Millions of women volunteers have swept into the great Councils of Defense recently organized by the President of the United States, each individual to do her part in helping to solve the problems of war. The message has gone throughout the length and breadth of the land, even to faraway Alaska and our island possessions. In Porto Rico, Guam, Hawaii, against many difficulties not known here, the women have organized and are at work. Many national organizations of women have joined forces with the Government, and the membership of the National Council now reaches into the millions. From nation to state, from state to county, from county to town, from town to house, every woman is reached, and to the honor of the womanhood of America be it said that very few refuse to take part when asked to affiliate and do her share. The terrible realization that their country is in war has taken hold of the women and each is arming herself for the firing line in her home.

Much enthusiasm was shown at the meeting of the local committee on Tuesday afternoon at the Peninsula Hotel in San Mateo. Representatives from the principal towns of the county from which the different department chairmen have been appointed were present and evinced great interest in the questions discussed. Food conservation seems still to be of paramount importance, Mr. Hoover's instructions being to continue the campaign indefinitely. The food pledges are being signed in great numbers and forwarded to headquarters in Los Angeles, whence they will be sent to Washington. Mrs. H. C. Godfrey, Food Conservation chairman for San Mateo county, has sent out pledges all over the county and is endeavoring to reach the housewife through the newspapers in the way of government recipes and general advice. Our housewives pride themselves upon their efficiency and economy and are always ready to receive new hints.

The pool rooms and cigar stand are to be conducted by James P. Maloney and John W. Morey.

Chew Chick, who has conducted a fruit store here for the past two years, has shown wonderful business acumen in the new awakening of Menlo Park. The "Melican" man is away behind the Celestial in foresight. When Chick discovered that the army camp was to be located in Menlo Park he at once sought Mr. Collie, who owned a small unused cottage on El Camino Real a few feet below Triumph Hall, and leased it for a period of ten years at the small rental of $12.50 a month. He constructed a respectable front to the building and yesterday leased one portion of the structure for $50 a month and another part for the same amount, reserving the center portion of the struture for his fruit store. Chick certainly is enterprising and is fully alive to what the big camp means to this community.

The deceased is survived by her father and mother, Edward, Moriarty, a brother, and two sisters, Mrs. George Shine and Miss Annie Moriarty.

Camp Fremont Notes

Next Monday 6000 head of horses and mules will arrive here from Wyoming for the artillery. We expect to hear much braying then.

The quartermaster is erecting buildings on the Mary's Help Hospital forty-acre tract on El Camino Real. Here will be located the officers and the tract is to be the parade grounds.

The Fourth and Ninth Companies will leave today for Fort Scott and their places will be taken by a regiment of national guards from Wyoming. The former companies are made up of regulars.

Early next week the first installment of the guardsmen from the north will begin to arrive. It is expected by the latter part of next week over 10,000 soldiers will be in camp.

About 75 soldier boys enjoyed a most delightful time at the Hall of the Nativity on Wednesday evening when a dance was given in their honor by the Young Ladies' Sodalities. The boys in khaki furnished the music and the young ladies the refreshments. The gentlemanly demeanor of the young men greatly impressed all. We in the camp are enthusiastic about our new quarters and the hearty welcome extended to us by the people of Menlo Park. No place in the world are the people so hospitable or so considerate. Wherever we go we will always have a soft spot in our hearts for the citizens of this community.

A big crowd listened to the municipal band of San Francisco last Sunday afternoon. Hundreds of people came from San Francisco and all points of the peninsula to hear the catchy music. Over 2000 persons were present. Concerts will be given every Sunday when all the soldiers arrive. They have their own bands.

Wilson the candy man has the contract to furnish the camp with chocolate and confections. Uncle Sam is to serve his soldiers candy.

Hoitt School has been transformed into a hospital. The hospital corps from the Presido arrived on Tuesday and have taken charge of the building. Up until last night there was only one patient in the institution.

The last few morning being very cloudy and cool, myriads of flies gathered around the camp kitchen bothering the cook of the Ninth Artillery. One morning the boys in near-by tents were suddenly awakened by dense smoke issuing from the kitchen. Upon investigation it was discovered that the cause of the smoke was from a new invention of the cook who employed a torch dipped in oil and who went around his kitchen burning bunches of flies that had become drowsy during the cold morning. Before they knew it they were incinerated by the resourceful cook. Now there is not a fly to be seen around the kitchen. "Bully for the cook" say the soldier boys.

The Retirement of Mr. Johnson

Editorial Santa Cruz Evening News August 1, 1917.

Mayor Taylor, and probably every member of the city council, would have been glad, no doubt, to have J. Leslie Johnson remain in the position he has held under all administrations since the commission charter was adopted. Mr. Johnson's retirement was not influenced by the election of Mr. Taylor—it had been resolved upon long before Fred R. Howe's term closed as mayor, and was prompted purely by business reasons. It is a pleasure to acknowledge the splendid service performed by Mr. Johnson in one of the most difficult and responsible positions in the city government. In a place where mistakes seemed inescapable and where mistakes would have meant so much, we cannot recall one single error of procedure—one error in judgment—in all Mr. Johnson's years of relations with the council and in all the matters with which he was called upon to deal. Yet there were many big and involved projects—like the building of the wharf, the settlement of the bondholders' claims against the city in the matter of the municipal water system, the deal by which the Hihn system was secured—where a legal misstep would have entailed serious consequences. The tapayers in the mass probably do not know the extent of the time and labor Mr. Johnson gave the city for comparatively small remuneration, but all those having business with the city know, and they sincerely regret his departure from the city attorneyship.

CASE DECIDED IN FAVOR OF THE DEFENDANT

Judge Buck has rendered a decision in the case of William Maguire against George R. Williams as executor of the estate of Truman E. Jewell deceased.. Judgment was given defendant on demurrer. The decision is as follows:

"There is no doubt that on January 7, 1903 Jewell owed Maguire $959. The debt existed and its payment did not depend upon any contingency. Its payment was not postponed. If not paid within a certain time the Statute of Limitations would run. True Jewell gave Maguire the right to receive any money realized from the Liberty Hill and Little York Mining property in which Jewell then owned an interest to be applied to the payment of this $959. No time was fixed in this right. No condition imposed. No contingency was provided for. This right to receive money from the mine given by Jewell to Maguire did not stop the running of the Statute of Limitations. About fourteen years has elapsed since the debt was acknowledged and upon the face of the complaint the action is barred. The case must be such however, that the right of action is suspended, until the happening of the contingency else the running of the statute will not be postponed."

Judgment for defendant on demurrer.

old school bridge we were soon over to our hole in the fence. On the bank of the creek some tall rank grass grew, which made a find blind to hide behind. Presently would come a splash in the shallow water, then another, until at least half a dozen ducks were feeding along within easy gun range. The first night we went "Bill" made the shot and he killed three with one barrel. I had my boots on and down the steep bank I slid and as the channel of the creek was quite hard had no difficulty in retreiving the birds. Before you could say Jack Robinson we were running along through the school yard, over the bridge and fence, across the back of the Cullen property and into our club room. While "Bill" hung up the ducks I got out of my boots into my shoes, and locking the door we walked down town to establish an alibi, looking as meek and innocent as the two Katzenjammer kids. Those were surely days of real sport. It was our first experience in night shooting, but it laid the foundation for many happy nights when we came home loaded down with bundles of the web-foots as evidence of the fact that we had not lost our sleep in vain.

roads at Camp Fremont, in Menlo Park, was ordered continued for one week.

On motion of MacBain, seconded by Francis, the application of F. Walthers of the Valley Inn at Portola, for a saloon license, heretofore continued was denied.

District Attorney Swart addressed the board relative to the ordinances passed at a recent meeting covering the sale and delivery of liquor within a radius of five miles of any military camp established in the county. He stated that he would not begin the enforcement of the ordinances until definite information and orders are received from the military authorities defining the camp limits.

A. G. C. Hahn, fire commissioner of Menlo Park, addressed the board relative to the class of structures being built at the above place since the establishment of Camp Fremont. He urged the passage of an ordinance regulating the class of buildings allowed to be put up and suggested that plans and specifications of all proposed structures be first submitted to the supervisors or to the members of the board in whose district the military camp is located, before a building permit is granted. After considerable discussion it was ordered, on motion of Hickey, seconded by MacBain, that District Attorney prepare a skeleton ordinance to be submitted to the board at the next meeting covering the above matter.

The district attorney was also requested to draw up a skeleton ordinance that would have for its purpose the regulation of the various kinds of business that are to be carried on at any military camps in the county and fixing the licenses for same.

F. E. Pettis of Redwood City was appointed poundmaster for the Third township on motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey.

Chairman pro tem Brown addressed the board and stated that the new stretch of highway from Beresford to Redwood City had not been properly surfaced by the State.

On motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey, Clerk Nash was directed to write the State Highway Commission and instruct them to see that the above thoroughfare is surfaced according to agreement.

Miss Rose Becker of South San Francisco was appointed a member of the Social Service Commission on motion of Hickey, seconded by MacBain.

Bids for furnishing supplies and utensils for the dining room and kitchen of the new county jail were received from Hull Bros. of Redwood City and Nathan Dohrmann of San Francisco. The bids were ordered referred to the courthouse committee with power to act, on motion of MacBain, seconded by Francis.

On motion of MacBain, seconded by Francis, County Surveyor J. V. Neuman was instructed to proceed with the grading of the second portion of the "skyline" boulevard as far as the money in the fund for that purpose is available.

District Attorney Swart addressed the board relative to the agreement the county had with the Southern Pacific Railroad Company regarding the closing of a small strip of road at Holy Cross Cemetery in Colma. He recommended that the chairman of the board be empowered to sign the above agreement with the railroad company.

This action was taken on motion of Hickey, seconded by Francis.

P. H. McEvoy of Menlo Park addressed the board and asked that a committee on arbitration be appointed to settle his differences with the county surveyor regarding the work done by McEvoy on his contract to construct a portion of the "skyline" boulevard.

The matter was referred to Surveyor Neuman to take up with Contractor McEvoy.

A claim of Mrs. Swellman, amounting to $517 and being for groceries supplied the county, was ordered paid on motion of Hickey, seconded by MacBain.
